Dear Author

Thank you for contributing a paper to the open access Journal of Physics: Conference Series (JPCS). This package of guidelines and templates for Microsoft Word has been prepared to assist with the task of preparing your paper, we hope they are useful.

Open access proceedings: publishing licence

Authors are reminded that for papers published in our open access proceedings titles (such as JPCS), IOP Publishing no longer requires authors to sign and submit copyright forms. Please note that our regular journals are unaffected by this change. For JPCS, copyright transfer forms are being replaced by a publishing licence under which authors retain their copyright and no longer need to sign and submit any forms. Any author who wishes to publish in one of these titles must agree to the terms of the licence (see the end of this letter) and by submitting a paper for publication to JPCS it is assumed all authors of the paper agree, in full, to the terms of the licence.

Here is a brief summary of the files you should have received or downloaded.

- JPCSUSLetterTemplate.dot
A Word template for authors using US Letter-sized paper. Double-click on the .dot file and Word will create a new document formatted to the JPCS style.
- JPCSA4Template.dot
A Word template for authors using A4-sized paper. Double-click on the .dot file and Word will create a new document formatted to the JPCS style.
- JPCSWordTemplateGuidelines.doc
Some notes on using the templates.
- JPCSExampleWordDocument.doc
A comprehensive description of the JPCS style for those who want further information or guidance on finer points of detail or style, including reference lists.
- JPCSMultimediaGuidelines.pdf
JPCS encourages authors to submit multimedia files to enhance the online versions of published research articles – including additional multimedia items is free.

What next?

Your paper will be peer reviewed by the conference organizers so the next step is to create and submit, to your conference organizer, a PDF file prepared from your Word document. Journal of Physics: Conference Series will use your final accepted PDF file for online and, if relevant, print publication. Please note that no editing, proofreading or layout changes will be made. Any time and effort spent in preparing and formatting your paper will be welcomed by the researchers who download it. Details of where to submit your paper will be available on your conference web site. We look forward to publishing your work and hope that Journal of Physics: Conference Series provides a useful research resource, thank you for your contribution.

Best wishes
